N A P A - U S A

STORY

Vintners Peter Chiang and Azumi Kubo share a deep love for food and hospitality and hope that each bottle reflects this sentiment. From the vineyard to the barrel to the bottle, all wines start with a simple question- how do we want to drink this wine? Each wine is crafted with a purpose and the dream that it will be enjoyed to the fullest.

Founded in 2017, the Chiang family purchased Meadowbrook Farm and met Steve Matthiasson shortly before the wildfires swept through Napa. Looking to give back to the community that had so graciously welcomed us, we donated the proceeds from our Hi No Tori Rosé to California wildfire relief, a tradition that we continue with each vintage. Since that chance meeting between Peter and Steve five years ago, we've grown our lineup of terroir-driven, age-worthy wines that we're proud and excited to share with food and wine lovers around the world.

WINEMAKER

Steve Matthiasson's classically balanced, restrained wines have earned the attention of consumers and critics alike under his own eponymous label. He has been named Winemaker of the Year from both Food & Wine Magazine and the San Francisco Chronicle and is a six-time nominee for the prestigious James Beard Award. Steve's history with our vineyard stretches back a decade to his early days as a farmer and viticulturist.

VINEYARD

Meadowbrook Farm estate vineyard is located between Mount Veeder and Dry Creek in the Oak Knoll District of Napa Valley. Meadowbrook Farm has been supplying grapes for over 30 years to prestigious wineries such as Stag's Leap Wine Cellars, Robert Mondavi, Joseph Phelps, and Opus One. Nurtured by its cool, moderate microclimate, the vineyard gives our wine structure, firm acidity, and complex savory flavors of olive, tea leaf, and tobacco.
